STOLE FOR BABY, MOTHER JAILED

STORY ON PAGE 3

Back to Jail—Embittered by the buffeting of unkind fate, Ruby Eaton Butt, 26, and red-headed, is returned from Winthrop to Salem jail by Sheriff Frank Raymond and Matron Ludvine Marshand . . . end of her jail-breaking foray into freedom.

LIFE TRAGEDY TO 'GUN GIRL' BACK IN CELL

Ruby Eaton Butt, so-called "gun girl," wan, tired and discouraged after her arrest in Winthrop for escaping from Salem jail, today unfolded the story of her life of tragedy.

THREAT to "get even with man who tipped police off" was made by Ruby Eaton Butt, gungirl, who was captured after four weeks freedom from Salem jail. She escaped Jan. 23.

Downcast over the fate which has kept her in the shadow of prison walls, the 26-year-old Titian-haired beauty spoke from behind the bars in Winthrop police headquarters.

A short time later, in tears, she started back for Salem jail in custody of Sheriff Frank Raymond, Deputy Daniel Ryan and Jail Matron Ludvine Marshand.

"TOUGH LUCK GIRL"

The girl burst into sobs when Matron Marshand, who had charge of her before at the jail, arrived at Winthrop police station. The matron tried in vain to comfort her.

Ruby had been close to tears as she told the story of her life and unhappiness. She said:

"I'm not a 'gun girl'—why do they call me that? A 'tough luck' girl would fit me better."

Then she told her story of misfortune, of escapes from confinement, of her love for a sailor for whom she defied law, of her marriage to another man in order to obtain freedom from Sherborn Reformatory.

LIFE OF MISFORTUNE

"Until I was 13 I spent most of my life in hospitals," she said. "First it was mastoid operations, then gland operations; one sickness after another—once I was in Children's Hospital seven months straight.

"Maybe that's why I always wanted to be free and enjoy myself — to forget those years of agony.

"I was only 15 when I had my first trouble with the police. A girl friend who said she could

Nazi Envoy Urges Cardinals to Elect New Pope of Peace

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 16 (INS)—Dr. Diego von Bergen, German ambassador to the Vatican, today advised the cardinals gathering for the conclave which will begin March 1 to elect a "world successor" to Pope Pius XI.

The Germany envoy addressed the congragation of cardinals, now numbering 40, but with more en route to Rome, when the congregation received the Vatican diplomatic corps. Von Bergen spoke for nine ambassadors, 14 ministers and seven charge d'affaires, representing 30 nations.

Referring to present conditions in Europe and elsewhere, von Bergen said:

"A new world is evolving with evolution of a pacific nature. The papacy undoubtedly has an important share in the evolution. Great responsibility lies upon the College of Cardinals in electing a world successor."

The German envoy reviewed the life of the late Pope Pius and lauded his great courage during the Warsaw crisis when he was Papal Nuncio to Poland.

American Officials At Pontifical Mass

ROME, Feb. 16 (INS)—Before a black and gold catafalque on which rested a replica of the papal tiara, members of the American colony today attended a pontifical requiem mass in Rome's famous Santa Susanna Paulist Church, in honor of the late Pope Pius XI.

Bishop Hayes pontificated at the ceremony.

GUNMEN ROB 3 BANK CARRIERS OF $27,000

NORWALK, Conn., Feb. 16 (AP)—Four bandits, armed and wearing dark glasses, held up two bank messengers and their police guard today as the three men emerged from the postoffice here and escaped in an automobile with $27,000 payroll cash.

Witnesses said that the men got out of a black sedan as the messengers reached a point about 30 yards from the postoffice, where they had just picked up two pouches containing a registered package of currency.

Three of the bandits attacked Sergeant John Toothill, 65, wrapping his clothing about him to prevent him using his pistol and then slugged him on the head with a blackjack.

The other gunman seized the two pouches from the messengers, employes of the City National Bank, and ran to the car.

The bandits fled, with a Norwalk motorist in pursuit, but he soon lost the trail.

BOSTON CARDINAL ASSURED OF VOTE

William Cardinal O'Connell, dean of the American Catholic hierarchy, today was on the high seas bound for Rome, reassured that he will arrive in time to vote for the new Pope.

The 79-year-old prelate remained in seclusion on shipboard, holding to his decision to observe a period of strictest mourning and meditation.

Twice previously Cardinal O'Connell arrived in Rome after the new Holy Father had been chosen by the sacred conclave of the cardinals.

The Italian line schedules were speeded up to land the prelate on Italian soil February 28, instead of March 1, the date the conclave begins.

Cardinal O'Connell will transfer from the Saturnia to the liner Neptunia at Gibraltar February 26, joining South American cardinals bound on the same holy mission.

Before departing from New York the cardinal declared:

"It is a very solemn occasion. I have placed myself in the hands of God to take me to the Vatican and back again to Boston.

"As a cardinal, it is my duty to God and church to fulfill that duty.

"I must answer the call. But it is hard for a man nearing 80 years of age to travel 5000 miles."

The Cardinal was accompanied by his secretary, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Jeremiah Minnehan; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Michael J. Splaine; the prelate's personal physician, Dr. John Downing, and Massachusetts Supreme Court Justice Paul A. Kirk, husband of the Cardinal's niece.

Mother Admits She 'Stole for Her Baby'

Pawn of Fate as Mother Is Jailed

She stole to feed her baby—and so today a 36-year-old Cambridge mother was in jail.

Under the same jail roof, but not with her, was her husband. He is doomed to die in four months, she said.

Meanwhile, in the home of a kindly Cambridge councilor, the innocent victim, little Kenneth ("Skippy") Beane, who is only two and does not know, played with the younger of the councilor's nine children.

"My husband is seriously sick. He hasn't got four months to live. He hasn't been able to work—and I had to have money for my baby somehow."

GIRL TURNS SLEUTH

Thus simply did Mrs. Esther M. Beane explain today her alleged part in a check-passing fraud.

It was a fraud, police said, broken up by lunch-hour detective work on the part of a attractive girl victim.

Today, following their court arraignment, Mrs. Beane and her husband, Wilbur T. Beane, 37, also under arrest on check charges, went to East Cambridge Jail to await hearing Saturday.

Last night Beane collapsed in Cambridge police headquarters while they were being led to cells.

CHILD WINS HEARTS

Released by the officers, Mrs. Beane ran to the stricken man, stooped over him, and gently rubbed his face in her hands. Soon he regained consciousness, and was removed to Cambridge City Hospital.

When first arrested, Mrs. Beane was allowed to take two-year-old Kenneth to her cell with her. Sergeant Joseph Linehan put his foot down at that, and City Councillor Michael A. Sullivan, father of nine children, offered to care for the youngster for the night.

The parting scene was touching. A few hours later while little Kenneth played in the East Cambridge courthouse corridors, winning the hearts of court attaches, his mother and father were arraigned, the father in the dock, the mother in charge of a probation officer.

BOTH HELD FOR TRIAL

Mrs. Beane pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny. Beane pleaded not guilty to a charge of forging a check for $25. The cases were continued until Saturday. In default of $1000 bail each they were remanded to jail.

Judge Robert Walcott was told that police in Boston, Somerville and Arlington also want the couple.

Meanwhile, Councilor Sullivan obtained permission of the court to keep little Kenneth until Saturday.

The arrests were caused by Mrs. Bernice Marchese, 29, of Brook street, Brighton, employed at a drug store in Central square, Cambridge.

When a $25 check she had cashed was returned with the notation

SPURNED WIFE IN 'DEATH PLUNGE'

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 16—Mrs. Barbara L. Blaha, attractive 19-year-old wife of a former Fairhaven High School football star, plunged 20 feet from a second story window of her estranged husband's home today and was critically injured.

Police said Otto A. "Pete" Blaha, 20, had been living apart from his wife of two years for the past month. A few days ago, they said, he filed suit for divorce, charging cruel and abusive treatment.

According to officers, Blaha said his wife came to his home in Arnold street and pleaded with him to return. He refused and she asked for a glass of water.

"When I went to get it," police said Blaha told them, "she ran to the window. I grabbed her arm, but she dropped."

Man Shot Dead On Boston Ship

Dead with a bullet in his head, the body of Norman Peter Nelson, 52-year-old retired New York policeman, was found today in a stateroom when the New York boat St. John docked at Boston.

Beside the berth where he lay was a .38 caliber "police positive" revolver.

In his pockets was his Social Security card, a regulation New York police department badge, No. 3328, with "Retired" stamped across it, and a miniature police badge such as given retired officers.

Also in his pockets were papers bearing an address in Sixty-third street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Nelson, according to passengers and officers, was seen about 7:30 last night when he had two visitors in his room. The berth was still made up and Nelson had been dead for hours, according to Medical Examiner William J. Brickley.

WIFE-SLAYER KILLS SELF IN CATHEDRAL AFTER PENNING WILL

CLEVELAND, Feb. 16 (AP)—Benedict A. Jender, sought by police in connection with the slaying of his estranged wife, shot and killed himself in the front pew of downtown St. John's cathedral today after attending mass.

Joseph A. Krizman, an attorney worshipping nearby, said Jenden knelt throughout the service and remained in the pew after the priest, Rev. William B. Gallagher, retired to the sacristy. Then, Krizman said, a shot sounded and he discovered Jender slumped on the floor, a revolver near his hand.

A scribbled will in the dead man's pocket concluded:

"God have mercy on my soul. This is the only way out."

Mrs. Jender was shot to death yesterday at the home of Frank Skowronski where she and a 13-year-old daughter, Florence, had lived since November.

Skowronski, who witnessed the shooting, told authorities Jender fired at his wife three times after she told him she planned obtaining a divorce. The child, Skowronski said, stood near her mother during the affray, narrowly escaping death herself as she sought to shield her parmet.

The child, telling police of her mother's death, reported:

"Father shot three times and ran down the back steps. She fell over and hit her head on an ash tray."

Skowronski told police Mrs. Jender had informed him she contemplated a divorce because her husband consistently gambled away his $60 a month WPA earnings.

Tobins on Way South for Rest

"Our trip isn't any mystery," the Mayor said. "I really don't know where I'm going myself. My wife and I have tickets on the Gulf Coast Limited.

"When we get far enough south to get warm, we're going to get off and lie in the sun."

He said he's had a cold for 13 weeks and it's beginning to worry him.

F. D. R. Secretary McIntyre Has Grippe

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Marvin H. McIntyre, secretary to President Roosevelt, was taken ill with intestinal influenza today and doctors ordered him to the naval hospital for treatment.

One of many federal officials including the President who have been hit by grippe or flu, McIntyre's condition was described at the White House as quite serious.

Girl, 14, Flees School Taunts

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 16 (INS)—Unable to stand the taunts and sneers of junior high school classmates, 14-year-old Carol Jean Schlanderer vanished nine days ago, it was revealed today.

Prosecutor Albert J. Rapp said the other children taunted her because she was attacked last summer by Thomas Mexicott of Flat Rock, now serving a Jackson prison sentence.

Carol left a note saying she could no longer stand the abuse.

Policeman Overcome, Many Are Driven Out in 3 Fires

A score of persons were driven to the street in night clothing, and one rescuing policeman was overcome by smoke, in three early-morning fires today, for one of which two alarms were sounded.

The two-alarm fire was in a five-story building at Massachusetts and Shawmut avenues, South End. Damage of $3000 was caused.

Starting in the basement, the flames spread upward, destroying a laundry on the first floor, and were not checked until they damaged the second story.

RESCUE INVALID

On the fourth floor, Patrolman Herbert Dolan found John Cunningham, 48, an invalid. While Mrs. Cunningham and two daughters, Margaret, 16, and Ruth, 19, made their way out unassisted, the policeman carried Cunningham to safety.

Because of the location of the blaze, six ambulances and eight squad cars arrived on the second alarm, and Fire Commissioner Reilly attended in person.

Other occupants of the building driven out were Mrs. Lillian Morehouse, Charles Fiske, Miss Cecilia Castleman, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Voorhees, Mrs. Evelyn Maroni, 18, and her year-and-a-half old baby; Arvid Carlson, Arvid, Jr., 15, and John, 13.

USE GAS MASKS

Smoke was so heavy at a fire shop fire in the first floor of the four-story building at Columbus avenue and Dartmouth street, South End, firemen were forced to don masks, and Patrolman John J. Dunne, who was rousing occupants, was overcome.

He was taken to City Hospital and released after treatment.

Persons driven out were Ethel Barton, Matilda and Constantine Brocket, Sarah Fernald, and James Regan. Damage was estimated at $500.

Twenty persons were roused, but not forced to leave their apartments, by a chimney fire in an apartment building in Hemenway street, near Boylston street, Back Bay. Damage amounted to $500.

8 Escape Blaze In Lexington Home

Eight persons were driven into the street today by a fire in a two-family house in Massachusetts avenue, Lexington.

The blaze started, firemen said, in cellar rubbish.

Miss Elizabeth Moakley discovered the fire and aroused her mother, Mrs. Patrick J. Moakley, and brother, James.

They ran upstairs and awakened Mr. and Mrs. James E. Trusdell and the three Trusdell children, Betty, Dick and Mary. All were aided to the street.

Boys Steal Auto Under Owner's Eyes

What made John J. McKinnon, Fairmount street, Reading, look back today after he had parked his car in Lowell street, West End, he doesn't know.

"But he saw two youths slide into the gray sedan he had just left.

McKinnon jumped on the running board as the car started away. One youth punched him and he fell off into the street. The car raced on.

The owner reported the theft to a traffic officer and search for the pair was started by teletype and radio.

McKinnon was taken to City Hospital with a leg injury.

TWO DEATHS RIDE ON FREAKISH GALE

Dropping 46 degrees in 16 hours—from a high of 61 at 3 p. m. yesterday to a low of 15 at 7 this morning—temperatures returned to an approximation of normality today, caused two deaths and gave everyone a chance to comment on the freakishness of the weather.

That gale, incidentally, was even more freakish than the temperature drop in that it was accompanied by thunder and lightning, an occurrence which none could recall as ever having happened before in February.

THE WIND DOTH BLOW

Wind velocities of 72 miles an hour were recorded here, with a register of 136 miles an hour on Mount Washington. There, today, it was 19 degrees below zero.

The weather change was due to the movement from the North of a cold mass of air, which swept out of Ontario, where, today, it was from 26 to 38 degrees below zero. It will be warmer tomorrow, however, cloudy, and with snow a possibility.

Raymond F. Trop, 53, was one victim of the cold. He died at Quincy hospital after being rushed from a railroad station where he had collapsed. Death was due to a heart attack, caused by the weather.

The other was Mrs. Delia Cordeau, 70, of Woonsocket, R. I., found dead there on the street. Police expressed a belief that she was knocked unconscious by a fall on slippery ice, and perished from cold and exposure.

COLD HALTS FLOOD

The state of the weather was also held responsible for failure of Governor Saltonstall to leave his home, where he has been ill of intestinal grip for seven days. It was said that because of the cold he would spend another day indoors.

No flood resulted from yesterday's torrential rains, although flood warnings were issued in Providence and other cities and towns. The precipitation was given officially as .58 of an inch.

Heavy seas whipped up by a wind which reached 41 miles an hour today poured over the grounded tanker Lightburne off Southeast light, ripped away several cabins and two lifeboats. Wreckage, including battered oil drums, was strewn along shore.

Clubman Will Wed Ursula

NEW CANAAN, Ct., Feb. 16 (INS)—Ursula Parrott, whose novels on modern problems have topped many best seller lists, will be married within a month to A. Coster Schermerhorn, member of one of New York's oldest families, it was learned today.

Miss Parrott met the social registerite when he gave up his Wall Street activities to organize and head a firm of literary and radio agents.

Miss Parrott, who lives here in New Canaan, has been wed three times. Schermerhorn, son of the fashionable Mrs. Alfred Egmont Schermerhorn, has had two wives.

New Wage Scale Aids 6000 in N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 16 (AP)—A minimum wage order covering 6000 men and women employed in retail stores was put into effect today by the minimum wage division of the state labor department.

Workers in cities of 25,000 or more population will get a basic wage of not less than $13.20 for a 44-hour week. Employes in communities of less than 25,000 will get a minimum of $12 a week.

Cold Wave Takes Toll Of Eleven Lives

By the Associated Press

Arctic cold spread over the East today in the wake of freak weather conditions that claimed at least 11 lives.

Gales left two dead in Alabama. Five persons died in three auto accidents in Pennsylvania attributed to blinding snow and slippery roads, and two were killed in New Jersey. Two brothers drowned when a ramp was swept away at Elmira, N. Y.

LYONS COLUMN NOW IN EVENING AMERICAN

"BROADWAY MEDLEY", exclusive news from Broadway, Hollywood, Washington and the capitals of Europe, comes to Boston Evening American readers today from the prolific and talented pen of Leonard Lyons.

Lyons, the noted columnist who has broken at least 500 news stories in his column during the last 12 months, today is perhaps the busiest man in New York.

Born in Manhattan 31 years ago Lyons was a full-fledged lawyer at 21. In intervening years he became the most consistent contributor to New York columns ever known.

The New York Post signed him in 1934, without any previous newspaper experience, and since that day he has haunted the hot-spots of New York, gleaning from visitors the exciting news from London's West End and Hollywood, from Tipperary and Pennsylvania avenue, from Paris and Pamona.

His stories about American personages have been reprinted in virtually every paper in America—24 hours later.

Recently Alexander Woollcott Dashiell Hammett, Ruth Gordon, George S. Kaufman and Dorothy Parker were asked: "If you had your choice of doing Leonard Lyons' job or spending three months in jail, which would you choose?"

Messrs. Woollcott, Kaufman, Hart and Hammett confessed they would take jail as an alternative to this, while Dorothy Parker wouldn't make any selection—she said she didn't see any difference.

CHARGE PRESIDENT OVERRODE CRAIG

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—Members disclosed today that the Senate Military Committee had received testimony that President Roosevelt overrode objections from General Malin Craig, army chief of staff, to permit a French air mission to buy 100 American-made bombing planes of the latest type.

Secretary Morgenthau told the committee Senator Austin (R.) of Vermont said, that the President had overruled Craig's objections after a conference with Morgenthau, Craig and the secretary of the navy.

Craig objected, Austin said the testimony disclosed, that if the French were permitted to purchase planes produced for army use it might interfere with the army's production of the necessary planes in time to meet requirements under the administration's new defense program.

Craig also said, Austin reported, that the French plane deal might deprive the army entirely of the Douglass light bombers.

Publicity following the crash of a plane of this type recently revealed the presence of a representative of the French air ministry as a passenger and touched off the committee's investigation.

Although Austin said Secretary Morgenthau himself had asked today that his previous testimony about the French plane deals be made public, Chairman Sheppard (D.) of Texas said the committee could not do this.

In this testimony, given two weeks ago, Morgenthau was asked why the treasury department should have become involved in a military purchase.

Morgenthau discussed the negotiations leading to the granting of special permission to the French mission.

"I thought that I had made it plain," he said in reply to another question, "that we did it at the request of the President."

Pressed on this point, he said, that "the President himself had taken the action and added:

"The President asked us to do it."

MOST BALDNESS CAUSED BY 'GUESSING'

BALDNESS is preventable in about 90% of all cases. Most men become bald because they guess at the causes of their hair-loss and then apply guesswork lotions or treatments.

Thomas treatment effectively prevents baldness because it replaces guesswork with scientific accuracy and precision. When a Thomas expert examines your scalp he determines exactly which of the 14 local scalp disorders are causing, or have caused your loss of hair. He then directs the 20-year proved Thomas treatment to overcome those specific causes. Your abnormal hair-fall stops; your dandruff disappears; scalp itch ceases; and new hair starts to grow on the thin and bald spots.

Come in and learn more about this reliable method of scalp treatment. No charge is made for a complete scalp examination.

Franco Firing Squad Executes Ex-Judge

BURGOS, Feb. 16 (INS)—Eduardo Barriobero, ex-chief of the people's tribunal at Madrid and Barcelona, has been executed by an Insurgent firing squad, it was announced today.

BOY SCOUT LEADER HUNGARY'S PREMIER

BUDAPEST, Feb. 16 (AP)—Count Paul Teleki, after 24 hours of pressure from Regent Admiral Nicholas Horthy, accepted a mandate to form a new government today.

As the 60-year-old count, Boy Scout leader and minister of education in the last cabinet, walked this afternoon to the royal palace for his fifth audience with the regent in 24 hours, he indicated he intended to invite most of the members of the last ministry to join the new one.

Anti-Semitic Bela Imredi resigned yesterday, acknowledging he himself was partly of Jewish ancestry.

Admiral Horthy was said to have persuaded the count it was his patriotic duty to attempt to reconcile the factions which have been tying up legislative work by fighting over Imredi's program.

Imredi advocated curtailment of political rights of Jews, wanted to bar them from some work and limit their participation in other fields of employment.

Charge Girl Shot 35 With Machine Gun

BARCELONA, Feb. 16 (AP)—Insurgent authorities today arrested Rosita Soler Riva, 15, and charged her with machine-gunning 35 persons on orders of her suitor, identified as a leader of the government's military intelligence service.

She was expected to face a military tribunal.

Insurgent officers said the girl admitted turning a machine-gun on a group of Insurgent sympathizers from whom the government was seeking information of Insurgent military plans.

New U. S. Plane Set World's Speed Record

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 (AP)—A guarded hint that "better" and presumably faster army fighting planes were in the making came today from Lieutenant Ben S. Kelsey, who piloted the air corps' latest pursuit craft on its record-smashing transcontinental dash.

Within a year, the flyer said, there might be an even more sensational plane than the experimental XP-38 in which he crashed at Mitchell Field, Long Island, on Saturday at the end of a 365-mile-an-hour coast-to-coast flight.

Without "opening up," Kelsey reported to War Department officials, he attained a maximum of 420 miles an hour near Pittsburgh, aided by slight tail winds. Farther West, with no wind, he reached 400.

Kelsey said he was not interested in pushing the two-motor Lockheed to its maximum, but officials said the flight broke "by far" all world records for military distance flights.

DUCE'S COUNCIL MEETS

ROME, Feb. 16 (INS)—Premier Mussolini's Fascist grand council adjourned today after a two-hour session until March 31. It was understood the meeting was concerned with proposals for reform of Italian secondary schools.

FELLS, ROBS WOMEN

The gray sweater and blue overalls he wore are all the clues police have today in their hunt for a youth of 20 who knocked down Mrs. Anna G. Averill, 33, of Reynolds avenue, Chelsea, in an alley off Batterymarch, and fled with her handbag containing $20.

Leader Urges Child Labor Law for State

State ratification of the federal Child Labor amendment was urged today in Gardner Auditorium by Kenneth I. Taylor, secretary-treasurer of the Massachusetts State Federation of Labor.

This is the fifth year such a bill has been proposed in Massachusetts.

"Little kids in employment is the greatest curse in America today," Taylor told the legislative committee on constitutional law.

He declared 750,000 of these "little kids" are being exploited as harvesters in "industrialized agriculture" in the Southwest.

"There has been much misunderstanding about the proposed ratification of the Child Labor Amendment," Taylor said.

"Some opponents have said, year after year, that if the amendment was ratified, Congress would enact legislation providing for an army of snoopers to go into your home and mine to see if our children are at work.

"They have said that Congress would prohibit boys and girls from helping their parents with domestic chores.

"That any Congress would be guilty of passing such laws is ridiculous. There is no intention on the part of Congress to keep adults in school indefinitely."

Taylor recalled that last year a measure to increase the compulsory school age from 14 to 18 years was killed by the Legislature in its third reading "because one individual sent a letter to legislative leaders outlining his opposition."

"We have some very influential people in our Commonwealth," he added.

"It was killed, not because we did not have the votes but because this one individual was able, at the last moment, to send one letter to the Legislature."

BULLETIN

The legislatvie committee on constitutional law today voted "leave to withdraw" on a bill proposing that Massachusetts ratify the federal child labor amendment.

Wreck Kills Two, 'Fasting Dean' Hurt

AMORY, Miss., Feb. 16 (AP)—The Sunnyland, fast Frisco passenger train, collided headon with a northbound freight train at Quincy, nine miles east of here today. Two of the train crew were killed.

Seven persons were injured, one critically. Among passengers was the Rev. Israel H. Noe, former "fasting dean" of Memphis, who was bruised.

100,000 Chicago Children Have Flu

CHICAGO, Feb. 16 (INS)—Hope that the siege of frigid weather would check the wave of influenza and winter colds in the Middle West was expressed today as the mercury stayed under the freezing mark in most sections.

Continued cold was in store for Chicago where more than 100,000 school children yesterday were still absent from classes.

Long Granted Death Stay

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 16 (AP)—Howard Long, sentenced to die March 1 for the sex slaying of a 10-year-old boy, was given a new lease on life today by the New Hampshire Supreme court which ordered an indefinite stay of execution.

The court directed Judge Oscar L. Young to accede to demands of Long's counsel that evidence of several doctors be heard regarding Long's sanity.

During his trial, Long was described as sane by the head of the State Hospital.

GRAND MARCH at St. Theresa's parish reunion tomorrow night will be led by Miss Marion Connors. More than 2000 are expected to attend.

Back Bay YD Vet's Own Bullet Kills Him

The bullet that didn't have Joseph Quinlan's number on it when he fought on every battle front of the Yankee Division during the war found him early today.

It was fired by his own hand, and his wife, Dr. Dorothy Black Quinlan, found him fatally wounded in the living room of their home, Bay State road, Back Bay. He had been ill and despondent, she said.

During the war Quinlan served with the 101st Signal Corps. From 1921 to 1926 he served with distinction with the Massachusetts state police. Recently he was electrician at the State Sanitarium, Maittapan.

He met his wife, then a nurse, during his duties as hospital electrician, and encouraged her to study medicine. She is now an interne at the Boston Floating Hospital, and has been making plans to open an office. She is 32; he was 15 years older.

Shoves Girl to Death Under Subway Train

LONDON, Feb. 16 (AP)—An unemployed barman, held for murder after pushing a 14-year-old girl under a subway train, told police today "a sudden impulse came over me and I wanted to push someone under the train."

The prisoner, Leonard Ward Davies, 29, was quoted by police as saying "I have been worried because I could not get work."

'Gun Girl' Bares Tragic Life From Police Cell

drive and I borrowed a boy's car, and wasn't it our luck to skid and turn over right in front of the Saugus police station?"

There were other petty scrapes, she said, and a term of four months at Lancaster, but when she met her sailor suitor, "Al," she intended to start a new page.

"I didn't dare to tell Al about myself—but one night some state agents and detectives humiliated me in front of him, told me I had no right to be with a sailor, and even locked me up in the Joy street station without letting him help me. I was only 19 then.

"Then they told me I was breaking my Lancaster parole by going to Charlestown to see Al. I just couldn't bear being without his friendship, until one night there was trouble in a City Square cafe—I guess I broke a window.

SENT TO SHERBORN

"In court they added another charge, something which I did not even know the meaning of. They all told me to plead guilty, saying I would be let off easy, but the judge gave me two years in Sherborn."

Almost breathlessly, the girl told of the strange surroundings in the women's reformatory, how she yearned for freedom, how after three months she used oil and a screw driver to remove the bars from her window and slide down blankets three stories to safety.

Eight days later, she was back at Sherborn, with more time to serve.

Again she won freedom from Sherborn, in 1937, because she was to be married to John Butt of Charlestown.

"He was grand to me—I had told him about Al, that I was marrying to get out. John did so much, has always stood by me. I didn't know enough to appreciate it all.

"The Sherborn people gave me permission to work in a Somerville cafe, but one night, after I had a couple of drinks, I got into another mixup. Somehow I took a gun from a man's car, someone squealed, and those inevitable police arrested me again."

CALLED "GUNGIRL"

It was at the time when a youth disguised in a woman's clothing was staging holdups. He was arrested by Boston police two days after Ruby was last August, but the incident was enough to brand her a "gun girl," the name she hates so much.

"Now it's jail again. I do wish they'd tell me what there is ahead—if some one would assure me there wasn't five years of jail waiting, perhaps I could stand it all and then start things over right," she said.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

ARE YOU ANEMIC
From Lack of Iron in Your Blood?

Weak, iron-poor blood is the curse of at least 4 out of every 10 women, and many men, too. Women especially suffer because of their body functions.

The first signs of iron-poor anemia may be pale cheeks and countless ups—or a feeling of being tired all the time.

Then, as the red blood cells go down and down in number and in color, other symptoms frequently appear, such as swollen ankles, dizziness, lack of appetite, spells of mental depression, and headaches. Women often suffer menstrual difficulties and coldness as a result of iron-poor red blood cells.

The heart protests at times by beating very fast, and may result in palpitation. The stomach often suffers in many ways—upsets, gas, indigestion, belching, sour regurgitation of food. And always there is the dread of being tired and weak—the feeling of being a sickly invalid.

Thrilling results are being reported from the use of a new preparation, ENRICH, which combines a large quantity of pure food-iron with Vitamin B1. ENRICH is not an ordinary patent medicine. It contains no strychnine, no arsenic, no alcohol or other stimulating drugs. Every 2 tablets (1 spoonful of ENRICH does three things):—

First, it supplies iron for the blood. Not medicine iron that you find in "blood pills", but the exact same kind of iron that exists in your blood.

Second, ENRICH contains Vitamin B1, the anti-neuritic vitamin that helps to strengthen the endocrine glands and the nerves, and ENRICH also supplies minerals which benefit the nerves.

Third, ENRICH helps to recharge your body's energy system so you can work with vigor, think more clearly, and lead a happier, richer life . . . so you obtain a necessary supply of Vitamin B1.

ENRICH costs but a few cents a day and may be taken with confidence and safety by any man, woman or child. Don't wait. Don't lay yourself open to sickness and weakness so commonly caused by need for iron and Vitamin B1. Start using ENRICH.

Rome Hopeful New Pope Will Prove as 'Strong as Pius XI'

Hugh Walpole, world-famous novelist, in a colorful dispatch today from Vatican City, describes how Rome, hushed under the pall of gloom cast by the burial of a great and beloved Pope, hopes for the election of a new Pontiff of Pius's stature to solve the grave problems facing the widowed church.

By HUGH WALPOLE

(World Copyright, 1939. By International News Service)

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 16 (INS)—The porter in my hotel said—"Rome is very empty," and when I answered something about the season not yet having started he muttered something about the Pope—"A great man—Rome is very empty without him."

I see again the Cardinals' procession of yesterday. It is upon that group of men that all eyes in Rome are fixed today. And two thoughts in immediate connection with them are: First, that at no time in any living man's memory has the Roman Catholic Church been faced with such problems as now, and: second, that Pius XI was a great man.

It is becoming clear, as the hours lengthen since the burial, how desperately important it is that there should be a new strong Pope and how strong Pope Pius XI was! He was a man of strong but tender heart, a man of rigid iron discipline—and a saint who walked with God.

PIUS LIVES IN DEATH

A devout Roman Catholic said to me, "What we want now is a man just like Pius."

But no man is exactly like any other man! It is the miracle of life that the pattern is never exactly repeated.

Near the Chapel of the Sacraments where Pope Pius was lying in state Cardinal Pacelli was seen standing close to the bier, murmuring prayers with tears falling down his cheeks. For what was he crying?

For the loss of his friend and his father. But for more than that. For the problems of his church, because he and all the cardinals are without a father. They are realizing now, with more force than ever before, that Pius XI was an exceptional man and a character not easily equalled.

This then is the great dramatic question and will be the dramatic question until a new Pope is chosen—not as it has often been in the past who will be the new Pope?—but rather, who is coming to lead us, guard use and defend us?

No ordinary man is enough. He must be a saint and diplomat and utterly courageous. Where is this man?

ROME AWAITS ELECTION

The ceremonies continue. There have been five more funeral masses and there are to be three large ones attended by the diplomatic corps and the high families of Rome. Then on March 1 the conclave of Cardinals will meet.

That meeting is the most simply religious of all ceremonies—no gorgeous robes or music, but is a meeting in which men's souls go directly to God to influence them rightly in their decision while choosing a new Pope.

Then will come the crowds watching day by day for the smoke from the Sistine Chapel. So long as the smoke from the ballots cast by the Cardinals is black, no election has been made. And then one evening the smoke will be white.

The cry will rise, "There is a new Pope," and the church will be no longer widowed.

There will be a new Pope, but who will he be? Will he be a master diplomatist or a simple saint, a an ascetic scholar?

Today, as never before in his life and death, Pius XI is alive. Men are realizing in Rome that a great man has left them lonely. Rome is empty.

From day to day, writing from Vatican City exclusively for International News Service and the Boston Evening American, Hugh Walpole, celebrated novelist, will describe the election of a successor to Pope Pius and the coronation of the new Pontiff in St. Peter's.

Cardinals, Rome-Bound, Hold Mass

ABOARD THE LINER REX AT SEA, Feb. 16 (INS)—George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago and Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, en route to the conclave of cardinals at the Vatican, will participate on Friday in a special mass of suffrage for the soul of Pope Pius XI, it was learned today.

Ship's Chaplain Cassani will officiate at the solemn ceremonies while Benjamino Gigli, Metropolitan Opera tenor, will sing. The services will be broadcast.

Hitler Sends Aide To Mass for Pope

BERLIN, Feb. 16 (INS) — Otto Meissner, chief of Chancellor Hitler's office, represented the Fuehrer today at a requiem mass in St. Hedwig's Cathedral for the late Pope Pius XI.

100 Dogs Dine At Table With Never a Growl

DETROIT, Feb. 16 (AP)—One hundred dogs sat down at tables and broke biscuits and gnawed bones here last night. Today their owners, who took leashes along just in case, said everything came off very well.

The American Hunting Dog Owners Association put on the banquet. The dogs were ranged around four large tables 12 inches high in an East Side garage, and were served a three course meal of dog biscuit, prepared dog food and bones.

Orson Welles Offered 'Napoleon' Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 — Brooklyn's Orson Welles, who scared half a nation out of its wits with his Mars broadcast, certainly hasn't scared off the movie offers. For the past two months Welles has been flirting with contracts offered by Samuel Goldwyn, RKO and others, but what he will probably do is "Napoleon" for Warners.

At least Hal Wallis is dangling the photographs of the Little Corporal in front of him as bait.

Louella O. Parsons

Orson Welles, who is now reading the script, accepts he will come to Hollywood at the expiration of his play here. Katharine Cornell, Guthrie McClintic and Miss Cornell's manager, Jimmy Hayes, left for Boston last night to see the play there.

The success of "Too Many Husbands" has led to "Tree of Liberty," the Esther Page story, Harry Cohn bought last week for Jean Arthur, and right at his own front door Columbia offers a free lance from New York to collaborate with Maurice Colbourne and Lee Dunne in the writing.

The movie rule as yet hasn't been discovered but the picture went to bed for another three months when Frank Lloyd is free to start shooting "Mutiny on the Bounty."

• • •

If there was any trouble between Darryl Zanuck and Joe Schenck over Rose of Washington Square, it's long since ironed out. At the time Roy stepped out of the picture it was announced he was ill and suffering from the flu. But whether or not he was sick there are no hard feelings for the picture is being handled by Charles R. Rogers for one of the big specials "Star Maker."

You'll remember this is the Paramount picture we said would be based on the life of Gus Edwards and not only has Bing Crosby the star spot but Ned Sparks, Lanny Ross will write the picture and Leo Carrillo will play the Edwards role.

Snapshots of Hollywood:

Jan Clayton, who starred in A Sale Divided, is a Johnstown girl but just as Marjorie Rambeau have been Pittsburgh's Haywards, Jan's home town is Uniontown, Pa., where her father is a newspaper publisher.

Ann Sothern is wearing a bad sinus attack. Jean Carroll whose divorce from Stuart Erwin becomes final this month has been wearing a very pretty girl here and there. Jay Hodges, who thrives on being engaged as new casting hit smiles on. Pat De Cicco, Jean Bennett and Alex D'Arcy an unexpected newcomer at the La Conga.

Fred Lewis has cancelled that South American trip to return to Hollywood next week. Glenda Farrell is wearing one of those new short haircuts. Monty Woolley hasn't missed a man on "Gone With the Wind" as laid up with arthritis. Ann Ames and Keith Scott were off yesterday for New York but come later for Europe to be married. Cathie Thal means a lot to her friend Richard Cromwell, who is awfully lonesome that's for Jenny.

THE PEOPLE'S CHOICE

THOSE WHO ARE ADVOCATING, either covertly or openly, an American alliance with foreign power are flying in the face of the overwhelming majority of our people—a sentiment that HAS ALREADY BEEN EXPRESSED.

Senator Clyde L. Herring, [illegible] in a powerful article entitled "Keep Your Powder Dry" in the Hearst International Cosmopolitan Magazine for March, has printed a résumé of the [illegible] and war questions as "clearly [illegible] Mr. Gallup says are "accurate and unbiased expressions of American opinion on current issues of foreign policy."

Here are the questions [illegible] as our people show:

Will there be another World War? Yes, 73 per cent.

Should the United States remain neutral? Yes, 69 per cent.

Should the United States join any plan for collective security? No, 67 per cent.

Should a referendum of all voters be held before war is declared? Yes, 70 per cent.

Should we increase our arms? Yes, 61 per cent.

Should we embargo war goods? Yes, 74 per cent.

Should we embargo credit for loans? Yes, 80 per cent.

Should loans be made to China or Japan? No, 95 per cent.

Should United States armed forces and citizens be removed from China? Yes, 70 per cent.

Should we ship arms to China? No, 68 per cent.

Should nations agree not to bomb civilians? Yes, 91 per cent.

Should the government call a conference against bombing civilians? Yes, 61 per cent.

That is a perfect picture of the American majority today. It means:

We do not want war in another European war.

WE SHOULD STAY OUT OF IT.

Our every effort and influence should be made an IMPRESSIVE MAJORITY for [illegible]

Not [illegible] which means alliances, [illegible]

A [illegible] for [illegible] war.

No more [illegible] loans.

The [illegible] conference as has long been [illegible] to stop the bombing of [illegible]

That is the CLEAR VOICE of our people.

DIES PROBE—The House of Representatives, having [illegible] the Dies committee's investigation of [illegible] another year backed up its [illegible] of Sharing.

The Dies committee has a big job, and it has powerful enemies.

Communist and [illegible] organizations, inspired and probably financed from abroad, are not its only enemies.

Agencies and individuals within the government itself, [illegible] of [illegible] position and vast bureaucratic [illegible], are its worst enemies.

The Dies committee now has a chance to serve the patriotic interests of the people on even terms with the enemies of the people.

LISTEN, WORI·D!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOU'VE heard it said that the root of all evil is money. That's so. The root of all man's FEAR.

Go to the bottom of any problem, years of the other fellow's or the world's, and you'll find it's the thing the same thing: FEAR.

Why are people cruel? They're AFRAID. Afraid someone will show them up . . . not think it's good.

Why are people cowards? They're AFRAID. Afraid they won't get their due. Afraid some of power or possessions or love or comfort or ease . . . or whatever they crave at the moment. So they dare not help stand up for the other fellow. They MUST cater to, or SELF-serve, or gain favor, or collusion over their SELVES for business, every day.

We are people today? They're AFRAID. Afraid someone will discover how we work . . . as weak as other people . . . they have to boast a big front or throw their weight around to cover the fact.

• • •

WHY ARE people CRUEL? SLY? SNEAKY.

Why are people CONCEITED . . . LOFTY.

Why are people CLOSED and CELL.

Why are people UNFAITHFUL . . . LECHEROUS . . . LUSH-NESS?

Answer: same answer as every other human mess. FEAR.

There's no end to the list of ugly things FEAR has given birth to. Today, you have every one of them . . . in greater or lesser degree . . . every petty and petty thing . . . every pitiful and pesty thing . . . from arson to common cold . . . FEAR.

Want to spend an interesting half hour? A half hour that would cost you $25 if you went to a psychiatrist? Then take a pad of paper and crown with an honest record of every disagreeable or frightful or distressful act you've committed within the last week . . . the last month or six months . . . the last year. Have to have that, after all, to cover them. FEAR.

It may be startling for you to find out how much FEAR has to do with your daily acts. But you will benefit greatly and be a better citizen as the result of such an analysis.

• • •

THERE IS ONLY ONE SIN . . . FEAR. It surprises me a lot when you realize that fact. You're accustomed to think of sin in many forms . . . so many forms, in fact, that it seems utterly impossible to combat them all. How on earth can you conquer your endless weaknesses and bad habits . . . your fibs, your laziness, your vanity, your general cussedness? The outlook's hopeless —

No, it isn't!

For you don't have to fight innumerable weaknesses —

Hydra-headed monsters of Sin.

You've only one weakness — One only enemy —

YOUR OWN FEAR!

Only one problem to tackle . . . only one obstacle barring you from Success, holding you back from Happiness . . . FEAR. Grab that fact and your whole life will be changed. Stop thinking of yourself as a regiment of devils and realize you've just one imp to lick and you'll feel differently toward everything . . . toward your Neighbor and your Nation, your God and your Job and your own silly Self.

Just one thing to lick. Then what's holding you? ROLL UP YOUR SLEEVES AND JUMP IN!

TAKES UP SCULPTURING AS A HOBBY

Mrs. Ivana Rosenfield of Brighton, Showing Her Model of Abraham Lincoln

Girl About Town

by MARJORIE McBRIDE

IT WAS a long ago that master minds intent on curing the evils of unemployment went to a lot of trouble to educate the public at large to leisure.

It's a cinch most Stein never heard of Mrs. Ivana Rosenfield of Brighton but long before the name comes to her hobby habit business she had solved her own leisure time problem.

Wife, mother, grown up, she found herself with time on her hands to keep her busy and happy. Casting about for an avocation that would get her away from the usual, she decided on sculpturing.

With a knack of artistic training Mrs. Rosenfield got herself a model and with her kodak began experimenting with a bust of her daughter Ivana. Today her busts of famous people are professional good. She's done Professor Albert Einstein, Fiorello La Guardia, the late Will Rogers and other personages from photographs. Her favorite is one of Abraham Lincoln just completed. Next she plans to tackle Major Bowes.

When she tires of sculpturing she turns her hands to making flowers and painting. Never a dull moment!

NO ONE SEEMS to know why but Waterville, Maine, has Daylight Saving Time and Boston doesn't. Waterville is the only town in the United States which has daylight saving time in the winter.

Not only is it a novel and different because Waterville is a long, long way from the greatest number of people who want Daylight Saving Time, but the owner of the only radio station there is dead set against it. Every one of the stores has a radio and they're all affected.

Even the telephone company has to give its guests a different time.

DEWEY'S going to run for governor of New York. Lots of Democratic politicians are going around saying they hope he does, as the chances of his winning are slim.

Though Dewey is running unopposed for the Republican nomination, this is the Democratic Party's chance to get a really good fight on its hands. Dewey is the Social Register candidate for governor. He's the favorite of the Park Avenue set.

Vincent Astor's candidate for governor is Herbert H. Lehman, the Henry Street candidate.

Caroline Astor's was what the ladies have to drink before dinner, not after coffee and brandy. So maybe Dewey will be beaten by Lehman.

NEW YORK Sports Dept.: Eleanor Holm who will resume her swimming career at the Music Hall, was feted by Hitler during the Berlin Olympics . . . At the tea party tendered for Miss Holm Hitler became very much interested in the fact that Avery Brundage had fired Eleanor from the Olympic squad for having sipped some champagne . . . "Now it was not a wonder of our team," the Fuehrer exclaimed. "Nothing like this would have happened. We would have allowed you to participate . . . 'And I wouldn't be punished?' asked Eleanor . . . "No" Hitler replied, "you wouldn't be punished, unless of course, if you lost.

MUSIC DEPT.: Sir Hector Bolitho, author of the biographies of the Duke of Windsor and George VI is visiting America now and came to Texas on W. 52d street, recently . . . The proprietor introduced Bolitho to cafe life by standing on his head and singing Italian arias at the same time . . . "That's nothing," Bolitho returned, seating himself at the piano, "watch this" . . . The biographer played an operatic tune striking every fifth note with his nose.

ILLUSTRATED SECTION: J. Edgar Hoover and his chief aide Clyde Tolson both have had pictures published of them . . . Mr. Hoover is a rare bird. Tolson told Dan Cupid yesterday. "Look at his feathers and call him a rare bird."

Hoover scanned the photograph and said: "Yes, that's such a nice picture. It's the only picture that ever looked like me and it's about all I've missed."

NIGHT CLUB DEPT.: The other night a ringsider at the Casa Manana was very attentive to the stepping of Eleanor Holm . . . He watched, in fascination, while Nazi exiles played the Verboten Overture — a medley of tunes forbidden in Germany . . . Offenbach's Barcarolle, Kreisler's Caprice Viennois, Mendelssohn's Spring Song, the Wedding March . . . He applauded performance and leaped to attention when the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" . . . His name is Max Schmeling.

Cash Prizes Await You Camera Fans

Come on, you amateur camera fiends, get that picture you've been waiting to snap for a long time on a negative!

It will enable you to enter the amateur camera contest being sponsored by the Boston Evening American, Boston Daily Record and the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

Following are the rules:

1—Only amateurs may compete. That is, photographers who are not employed at the work, and persons who do not make a practice of selling to publications any individual photographs made by the contestants.

2—As many different photographs as the contestant wishes to submit will be considered. No photographs will be returned.

3—Each photograph submitted shall have attached thereto, or inscribed on the reverse side thereof, contestant's name, full address, age, type of camera and film used and details of exposure and lens conditions under which it was made.

4—All photographs submitted shall become the property of these newspapers and of Glass, Incorporated, or its assigns, with unrestricted permission for use in publicity display or advertising.

5—Contestants agree to the final judgment of the Contest Editor and his judges, and to the decisions of the Contest Committee (national) which Glass, Inc., shall designate, as being final and without change or appeal.

6—Neither these newspapers nor Glass, Inc., nor any officials, judges or others connected with the conduct of this competition, shall be held liable for any damages claimed due or responsibility of any kind in connection with contestants' photographs nor their well-being during the prize trips to the World's Fair and New York.

AWARDS

The three winners of the Boston Evening American, Boston Daily Record and Boston Sunday Advertiser camera contest will be awarded:

An all expense trip to and from the New York World's Fair; a sight-seeing tour of New York city and the Fair, and another entertainment during a three-day visit to New York city, each accompanied by a companion or a reporter from the sponsoring local newspaper.

In addition, these 16 city winners will be given 24 hours while at the Fair to make another contest photograph of any subject or scenes within the Glass center, and cash prizes will be awarded as follows:

First grand prize	$500
Second prize	250
Third prize	100
Three honorable mentions at $50 each	150
Total	$1000

2—Bids and Proposals

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COMMISSION
Sealed proposals for the construction of Section 103 of the North Metropolitan Relief Sewer, Contract No. 11-201, Mystic Valley Drainage System, will be received by the Metropolitan District Commission at Room 905, 20 Somerset Street, Boston, Mass., until 1:00 o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard Time, Thursday, February 23, 1939. These proposals will be carried in a sealed container to the Public Hearing Room on the 9th floor at 20 Somerset Street, Boston, directly and at that time and place publicly opened and read aloud. Each proposal must be in a sealed envelope endorsed with the name of the bidder and North Metropolitan Relief Sewer, Section 103—Plans, specifications and other contract documents may be examined at the office of the Chief Engineer of the Sewerage Division, Room 905, 20 Somerset Street, Boston, without charge and may be secured at that place upon a deposit payment of $10.00. The full amount of the deposit for one set of documents will be refunded to each actual bidder upon return of a regular proposal in good condition within 35 days after the opening of bids. Other deposits will be refunded, with a deduction of $10.00 for every expenditure upon return of all documents in good condition within 15 days after the opening of bids. Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for the sum of $41,000 made payable to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, or a properly executed Bid Bond for the sum of $41,000 on the form prescribed. All clauses of Section 1 of the current issue of the Laws relative to the filing of proposals, the giving of bonds and the execution of the contract, under the terms of Chapter 149 of the Acts of 1935, as amended by Chapter 479 of the Acts of 1935, are annexed to the contract documents. No bids may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for the receipt of bids for at least thirty (30) days. A surety bond in an amount equal to one hundred (100) per cent of the contract price will be required. The right is reserved by the Commonwealth to reject any or all bids, or to waive informalities. A proposal which provides for a unit price item, a bid that is abnormally low or high may be rejected as unbalanced. The amount estimated to be available for Section 103 is $820,000.00. Attention of bidders is called to the fact that the Commission will use the same day, receive bids for constructing Section 102 of this project; also bids for Section 102 and 103 combined under one contract. Bidders are at liberty to submit proposals on either or both of the sections separately or on the two sections combined. The Commission will award the contract to the lowest of proposals from responsible bidders which named the lowest number of dollars considering both sections. WILLIAM E. WHITTAKER, Secretary. fb 16

Wilson and Kling Hit Bookmakers | Don Meade Also Causes Grief

Austen Lake is in Washington, D. C., on a "hot" news story. Watch for his first article.

BOSTON BOOKMAKERS have had a sorrowful winter as a result of the sensational riding of Don Meade at Florida tracks and the brilliant handicapping of Dave Wilson and Ken Kling . . . Bettors who have been playing Meade on a $2 progressive system have been cleaning up . . . Under this method of gambling, the wagers are increased from $2 to $4, $4, $6, $8, $10 and $12 until Meade parades a nervous thoroughbred into the winner's circle.

During the [illegible] month this system [illegible] has netted profits of more than $1000 to those persons who have employed it . . . A fairly healthy bankroll and courage are necessary . . . Under the old law of averages Meade cannot be expected to keep winning indefinitely, and when things begin to go the other way for him the bookmakers will then be the ones to do the cheering.

CHAPTER XIX

I rushed back to New York after the Goddard fight, crazed with anxiety about Julia. So critical was her condition that I wasn't permitted to see her. I hung around New York, distraught, for two or three days until I could have a minute with her, and then had to go to Asbury Park to begin training for the Sharkey bout.

Mayor Ten Broeck had a hotel, where I was made welcome, and with my mind and heart altogether in New York, I went through the routine of training.

[illegible] New York [illegible] and [illegible] my heart [illegible] because of [illegible]

My condition was [illegible] better than Mr. [illegible] and I knew [illegible] my class of [illegible] and career [illegible] violated the agreement to rob me of my foxwork.

DEVELOPS PUNCH

[illegible] my time [illegible] Sharkey [illegible] and I had developed a terrific punch. [illegible] won the [illegible] from Tom Sharkey [illegible] New York Athletic [illegible] New York.

I was [illegible] Al [illegible] and [illegible] was my [illegible] I had [illegible] and [illegible] Pioneer Pastime [illegible] was [illegible] Parker at [illegible] being [illegible] and [illegible] My [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible]

If you have ever tried to dance on a thick carpet you can realize the difference between a hard [illegible] and a soft one to a boxer. I [illegible] tested. That we were to fight on a hard [illegible] was [illegible] in the Athletic Club of agreement. O'Rourke had violated the agreement to rob me of my footwork.

To the crowd my [illegible] as the ring would look. Sharkey and O'Rourke had me in a tight spot. In response to [illegible] men's [illegible] he would say [illegible] for the press to hear. "Are you sore? Do you want to quit?"

So constantly I [illegible] received

STARTS JABBING

For five rounds I was able to handle Sharkey, a weight not a boxer as I had hoped. After the heavyweights in spite of the handicap of the padded [illegible] fact that he washed [illegible]

[illegible] being [illegible] and [illegible]

"I am leading," he growled.

"But you're not landing," I said, tapping him on the nose.

A few seconds of this and he said, "Oh, you —— —— ——, I'll lead!"

[illegible] I [illegible] I was [illegible] a straight right to his chin with everything I had behind it. The blow lifted Sharkey [illegible] at the far side of the [illegible]

Boston in my corner [illegible] there was [illegible]

I had [illegible] I [illegible] the count of six I [illegible] and floored him again. [illegible] at Sharkey I got up and [illegible] of the round landed two [illegible] the head.

In the tenth round I was [illegible] and again Sharkey [illegible] for. I kept my feet [illegible] a left [illegible] to the jaw and [illegible]

When Sharkey [illegible] I [illegible] e, the [illegible] ing.

[illegible] my [illegible] that the bell was [illegible] Benton's bungie cost me the [illegible]

Sharkey was badly fuddled [illegible] fore they called time [illegible] and O'Rourke [illegible]

"Fine," said the sailor, "I can lick all three of them."

"Pick the one in the middle," said O'Rourke, "and stick to him."

After the fight Tommy Ryan [illegible] for enabling Sharkey to beat me. He said that he had cautioned him not to swing, to adapt his style to mine.

As a matter of fact it was that [illegible] on Sharkey's part [illegible] I would have proceeded to cut him to ribbons, and am confident that I would have knocked him out had not the foxy O'Rourke brushed aside the other seconds and told Tom to use his superior weight and rush me persistently.

Handicapped by the soft footing I was at a marked disadvantage when Sharkey, after keeping out of harm's way as much as possible in the fourth [illegible] the final [illegible] abruptly [illegible] mode of attack.

In the fifth round I was still [illegible] however and landed [illegible] to the face again, and asked him, "How do you like that?"

MELLODY PICKED TO RETAIN TITLE AGAINST DENNER

By RINGSIDE

Honey Mellody's title as New England lightweight champion will be at stake when he battles Abe Denner of the West End in a 12-round bout at an Argonne A. A. show at Mechanics Building tonight.

Mellody is expected to enter the ring a 7-to-5 favorite in view of his greater experience.

It will be a battle between a puncher and a boxer. Mellody likes to let his punches fly, while Denner is an exponent of the art of scientific boxing.

Denner gained national standing as a Hearst All-America boxing champion two years ago last fall.

Former New England lightweight ring kings will be at the ringside, and will be introduced to the fans.

If Henry Armstrong ever consents to box in New England, the winner of tonight's bout will be in line to land the match.

Cocoa Kid will have "Buster" Carroll of Lowell as an opponent in a ten-round bout. The Cocoa Kid is a fast, flashy boxer and has always shown to advantage in his Boston ring appearances.

Carroll is the best boxer to come out of Lowell since the days of Al Mello and Billy Murphy. There will be a large delegation of fans from Lowell at the ringside.

Pat Foley of Worcester, a rugged puncher, will collide with Johnny Cabello in another ten-round tussle. Foley has been winning regularly in Worcester rings, and he will have plenty of supporters on hand for tonight's tussle.

Another ten-round bout will bring together Dominick Ceccarelli, Italian light heavyweight, and "Tiger" Warrenton of the South End. Warrenton recently gave a good account of himself against Bob Pastor.

Bartolo Nears Title

Salvatore Bartolo, East Boston, will win himself nothing less than a crack at the featherweight champion of the world if he comes through with a victory tomorrow night at the Boston Garden over Pete Scalzo in the Goodwin A. C. show.

This will be one of three 10-round main bouts in this fistic extravaganza arranged by Matchmaker Rip Valenti of the Goodwin club. Merry Mike Kaplan, Dorchester, faces Jimmy Leto, Hartford, and Henry Chmielewski, sensational Pole, tackles Johnny Rossi, Worcester, in the other 10-frame features.

The featherweight champion of the world is Joey Archibald of Providence, who took over the throne by winning an elimination series following the abdication of Henry Armstrong.

No sooner had Archibald leaped to as successor to Armstrong than he met up with Scalzo and was knocked cold in just two rounds by Scalzo.

Kaplan is likewise in for a very bothersome p. m. Leto is ranked No. 4 among this nation's welterweights. He's an ever-busy puncher who keeps sailing in and swinging until something gives. Kaplan will be a favorite to beat Leto but Merry Mike needs to be every bit as sharp as he was against Georgie Martin recently to finish in front.

The ring handicappers figure Chmielewski will k. o. Rossi. But here again a great fight is expected for Rossi is rough and tough and has a wide edge on Chimmy in the important matter of experience.

FEAR 'BISCUIT OUT OF $100,000 RACE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16 (AP)—Seabiscuit, lamer than ever before in his life, was turfdom's big question mark today—just 18 days before the running of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap which he had been favored to win.

Trainer Tom Smith said he was afraid a suspensory ligament in Seabiscuit's left front ankle—a ligament he had feared would go wrong—had been ruptured in the Biscuit's defeat by Neil S. McCarthy's Today in a $2000 mile race last Tuesday.

If this is true, other horsemen declared, the mighty runner is definitely out of the "hundred grand" on March 4, and even if there has been no rupture, he may not be able to reach the big race in peak condition.

NO BROKEN BONES

Dr. J. E. Peters, veterinarian attending Seabiscuit, reported today an X-ray taken of the ankle had revealed no broken bones.

"We didn't think there would be, but we wanted to be on the safe side," he said.

"The horse's ankle is very sore, but the injury doesn't seem to be anything so serious that time won't heal it. Whether Sea Biscuit can be ready for the Santa Anita handicap is another question."

Owner Charles S. Howard got some comfort from the fact the Biscuit looked better than he had expected in easy walks around the stable ring. His champion he said, did not seem to favor the injury as much as he did when he left the track two days ago.

"I still have hopes the Biscuit will answer the bell March 4," Howard added.

WANTS $36,000

With Seabiscuit $36,000 short of Sun Beau's all-time money-winning record, Owner Howard still clung to his dream that his six-year-old horse would set a new mark.

The Biscuit has won $340,490. Howard said if he didn't run in the Santa Anita, he would be pointed for the $50,000 gold cup handicap at Hillywood Park this summer.

If, and when, Seabiscuit breaks Sun Beau's record, Howard intends to retire the son of Hard Tack and grandson of Man O' War to stud at his breeding farm near San Francisco.

Malden City Five Meet Boston Club

The blue ribbon basketball event on the local sports calendar for this week is scheduled for Saturday night, at the Seaver Street Gymnasium, when the Malden City Club clashes with the Boston Y. M. H. A. Varsity.

Malden City Club, always the tops in New England basketball and never lacking in power, will have additional strength for this contest with the Hebrew boys. Red Kopeckey, former Boston University all-around athlete, and Johnny Wedmyer, former Marquette University high scorer, have been added to the line-up.

Hijo Gaucho Longshot on Race Card

By DAVE WILSON

(Selections made for fast track)

BEST BET—DAY OFF

HIALEAH PARK, Miami, Fla., Feb. 18—If Day Off doesn't have an off day, the second race on the program here this afternoon should find this maiden breaking into the winner's circle after a stout race over the seven furlong course.

With Deck listed in the field, Day Off should find the contention from that corner quite strong, but should last out to capture top honors.

Looking forward to a large daily double, Golden Cargo, making its second start, should start the large payoff rolling with a victory in the opening race. G. C. looked weak in last start, but trials indicate that the two-year-old is capable of whipping this field.

Longshot players rate a gambling chance with Hijo Gaucho n the fifth. Grade C handicap. Hijo, if on this second try in my books can hit true stride, should return a double figure payoff to its backers.

War Admiral May Race Stagehand Saturday

By DAVE WILSON

MIAMI, Feb. 16—There's a chance, just a chance, that Stagehand and War Admiral will lock horns here Saturday in a seven-furlong overnight affair which may offer a preview of the $50,000 Widener Cup.

Not, however, if Joe Widener can talk the owners of these two horses into not running against each other.

Right now he is doing his darndest to talk Col. Maxwell Howard into letting Stagehand go in the McLennan Memorial on the same card and leaving the overnight affair free to War Admiral.

It seems that a tune up race was written for War Admiral on Tuesday, but it didn't fill.

As George Conway wants the son of Man O' War to have a workout before the Widener, it will be hard to convince him to take his horse out of the race.

Stagehand has displayed no great ability as a sprinter so it will be easier to fill the race with him in than to fill the same race against the Admiral, a speed merchant.

Widener's reluctance to having both horses hook up in this affair is founded upon the fact that such a race would take much of the edge off the Widener Cup, feature event of the Florida season which is scheduled to be run here March 4.

Beavers Test Olympics

The St. John Beavers, who will test the Olympics at the Garden on Saturday night and Sunday afternoon, are considered by Maritime hockey experts to be the best team in those provinces.

They have a record of four straight victories over the Halifax Wolves, one of the two big threats in Nova Scotia for Allen Cup honors. It is generally believed that the Beavers will win the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island title and face either the Halifax Wolves or the Sydney Millionaires, in the N. S. circuit, for the Maritime title.

Coach Dick Carroll has gathered around him not only one of the best teams ever to represent that section but he has also one of the biggest.

The Beavers' defense carries over 775 pounds around with them.

The star of the club is one Charlie Phillips who weighs in at 215 pounds. Phillips plays right defense and is reported to be headed for the N. H. L. ranks next winter. He is one of the top scorers of the invaders.

DI MAG OFF EARLY FOR YANKEES' CAMP, INTENT ON BIG YEAR

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 (AP)—Limited to a week and a half of actual training his first three years in the majors, jolting Joe DiMaggio, the Yankees' outfield star, plans really to get in shape for the opening of the 1939 season.

DiMaggio will leave for the St. Petersburg, Fla., camp of the World's champions on March 1, in time to arrive for the opening of training four days later.

Because he expects to be in excellent shape for the opening game, DiMaggio predicted "this is going to be my big year." This should be bad news for American League pitchers, whom Joe mauled for averages of .323, .346, and .324 in his three years in the big time.

"Do you know that in three spring training camps I haven't had over one and a half weeks of actual training?" DiMaggio asked.

"The first year, I had my foot burned and I was thrown out of training. The second year, I had my tonsils removed, and last year it was my own fault (he held out until after the season was under way). But the fact remains I have yet to open the season with the Yankees in first-class shape.

"For once I would like to start off feeling that I am fit for anything that comes along, and barring accidents, I am going to be in that kind of condition this year.

"I feel that this is going to be my big year."

DiMaggio said he was going after the humble basebit and not homers this season, and expressed determination to do better against Connie Mack's Philadelphia pitchers, who gave Joe more trouble than any other staff in the league last year.

"It might be that Mr. Mack has something on me," Joe offered in explanation for this odd fact.

DiMaggio denied and seemed annoyed at reports here that he would shortly sign a contract calling for $26,000. He reportedly received $25,000 last season.

New Job

For Hartnett

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 16 (INS)—Pitcher Lon Warneke of the St. Louis Cardinals had a comeback for his old catcher, Gabby Hartnett, with the Chicago Cubs.

In a recent magazine article Hartnett wrote that Warneke was "lousy with a gun," referring to his marksmanship as a hunter.

Said Warneke:

"The next time that guy asks me to take him hunting I won't give him a gun, but use him solely as a retriever."

Posse Natators In 'Y' Tourney

Posse School will be well represented next Wednesday night when the Boston Swimming Association holds its eighteenth annual swimming meet at the Boston Y. M. C. A. pool. Coach Earl Spencer, Posse coach who formerly directed the Whitin C. A. representatives, has entered his full team in the meet.

No less than five of the Posse contestants will seek championship honors. Heading the group will be Patricia Power, the Worcester girl, who will bid for honors in the senior 220 yard free style. In the junior 100 yard backstroke will be Erna Shieve and Norman Seither. The latter will also be in the State 100 yard free style. Others in the century from Posse will be Helen Roark, Elinor Weene and Barbara Currier.

Coach Spencer has also entered Betty Ellis in the 100 yard Class "B" free style, while Marion Leary and Barbara Hildreth will compete in the 100 yard breast stroke.

167 Answer Call At Rajah's School

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 16 (INS)—Roger Hornsby's baseball college opened in Hot Springs with 167 students registered. Sixty-three answered the opening roll call for George Barr's umpiring school.

Also adding to the baseball atmosphere at this spring training camp was the arrival of 13 members of the Baltimore International League club and 12 pitchers and catchers of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

100 Years of Baseball

Umpires in Early Diamond Days Worked for Nothing

CHAPTER 5
By SID MERCER

Henry Chadwick rests in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn. The inscription on the marble shaft erected over his grave by the National League reads: "Father of Baseball."

He was responsible for much early baseball publicity and more than any other man he had a genius for improving the rules that governed the game.

Harry Wright, a field pioneer, also was an expert rules tinker. He preached the gospel of baseball through the country and was the first to put it on a professional basis. His last code of rules is still printed in the A. J. Reach scorebook.

Many who play baseball now never heard of Chadwick or Wright or what they did to establish the national pastime. Chadwick was born in England and was a schoolboy when he came to America.

In 1857 he associated with the New York Clipper with which he remained until his death 31 years later. He contributed to the Brooklyn Daily Eagle for 40 years and to many sports publications.

As chairman of the first rules committee he developed the present system of scoring. He edited the first baseball guide.

SEES OPENER AT 84

"Father" Chadwick was 84 when he attended an opening day game in 1908 at old Washington Park, Brooklyn, and contracted a fatal cold.

Chadwick's first rule book was published in 1857. At his suggestion games were limited to nine innings—ties excepted—and it was decreed that five innings should constitute a legal game. That rule still stands.

The National Association gave the playing code a thorough revision during the Winter of 1863 and greatly elaborated its provisions.

Up to 1858 the ball was limited to a circumference of 10¼ inches and a weight of 6¼ ounces.

It was reduced in 1860 a quarter of an inch in size and a quarter of an ounce in weight and these regulations were retained in 1863. For the first time, however, the pitcher was confined to a box.

The base on balls became a penalty against a pitcher for "repeatedly failing to deliver to the striker fair balls for the apparent purpose of delaying the game."

After sufficient warning the umpire was empowered to call a ball and then two or three if his warnings were not heeded, the third call entitling the "striker to first base."

The captain was really a manager, but today that title means little. The captains selected the umpire and it was specified that each should select one of the two scorers. Evidently the scoring was not above reproach in those days, nor is it now, though for different reasons.

TWO CLASSES FORMED

In 1865 a rule dividing players into amateur and professional classes was adopted by a convention of 200 clubs.

The "out on fair bound" had been eliminated the previous season after years of argument. In 1867 the rules were arranged much as they are today.

The batsman was given the privilege of calling for "high" or "low" pitched balls. A high ball's trajectory was over the plate and between the waist and shoulder.

Between the waist and one foot from the ground it was a low ball. The pitcher's box was a six-foot square. Umpires were authorized to forfeit games.

The National Professional Association adopted many rule amendments in 1872. One ounce of rubber was permitted in the ball, which was reduced to a weight of not more than 5¼ ounces and a circumference of 9¼ inches.

The revised code was heavily worded. As late as 1908 the rules had to be revised because of ambiguous verbiage. Some sections related to situations long since antiquated, such as:

"Sec. 7—The Use of Private Bats—The striker shall be privileged to use his own private bat exclusively, and no other player of the contesting nines shall have any claim to the use of such bat except by consent of the owner."

NO SUBSTITUTIONS

The 1863 rules had provided that "no change of substitution shall be made after the game has commenced unless for reasons of illness or injury." Nine players constituted a "full field."

Until recent years, especially in rural districts, baseball units were known as "nines" instead of teams. Under the 1863 limitations there was no room for frequent changes of fielders, pitchers and pinch hitters who clutter up the box scores today.

The restriction to nine players apparently was loosened by 1872 and for the first time special ground rules were permitted, fielders were prohibited from catching or stopping balls with their "hats or caps," interference with a fielder was penalized and a base runner hit by a batted ball was an out.

One rule provided that "No person shall be permitted to act as umpire in any match if he receives compensation for his services.

Neither shall an umpire be changed during a match unless by consent of both captains, except for reason of illness or injury or for violation of the above rules."

So the umpire in those days was just a volunteer. He asked for it and he got it—sometimes with painful results. The double umpire system was not established until many years later.

Mayor Backs Golf Tilt

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 16 (AP)—Hopeful of giving New Orleans one of the major attractions of the winter golfing wars, Mayor Robert S. Maestri dug $10,000 in cold cash from his personal bankroll as prize money for the 72-hole Crescent City open tournament.

The mayor started this tournament a year ago with $5000 in the pot but decided he wanted to make it a bigger and better affair, so he doubled the kitty. On top of that no one pays to see the pros perform.
